Council Offers To Compromise

MILLION MORE MEN WILL BE ASKED TO CONTINUE THE WAR

Great Britain's War Estimates For Year Made Known—War Has Cost $17,660,000,000—Russia Is Against Peace At Present Time—France Is Unshaken—Puts Blame On Chancellor.

LONDON, DEC. 14.—A supplementary estimate issued today provides for an additional 1,000,000 men of all ranks for the army service during the present financial year. The original estimate was for 4,000,000 men.

In moving a vote of credit of $2,000,000,000 in the House of Commons today A. Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, decided to confine his speech entirely to the financial side of the war and, in the absence of Premier Lloyd George and former Premier Asquith, owing to illness, it was expected the debate would be merely along this line.

However, this may not prevent members of the small group of peace advocates from asking questions in an effort to draw out the government in regard to Germany's peace proposal, altho it was regarded as unlikely that they would succeed.

The proposal of the Central powers had not been received at the foreign office this morning, and as it is understood simply to refer to opening negotiations, containing no terms the consultations of the entente allies regarding it are expected to be purely formal, preliminary to the transmission of a joint reply.

In any event, Great Britain will make no official comment until Russia, France and her other allies express their views.

War Cost $17,660,000,000.

Today's vote of credit is the fourteenth since the outbreak of the war, bringing up the total for the present financial year to $8,775,000,000 and the grand total for the war to $17,660,000,000.

While there is always a large attendance of members on the day a vote of credit is moved, even more than usual interest was shown in today's proceedings, owing to curiosity as to whether any change would be announced in the manner of financing the war and as to the reception by the Liberals of the new chancellor's policy.

May Arm Trade Ships

In the house of commons today, Thomas MacNamara, financial undersecretary for the admiralty, announced that the admiralty had under earnest consideration the matter of arming merchant ships.

Andrew Bonar Law said this afternoon that no proposals for peace had yet been received by the British government from the central powers. He added that the entente allies required adequate reparation for the past and adequate security for the future.

Mr. Law announced that the daily average expenditure of Great Britain

Peace Proposal Is Enroute To Allies

WASHINGTON, DEC. 14 — Germany's announcement that she is ready to discuss peace with her enemies is now enroute to the capitals of the entente allies.

It reached here early today from Joseph C. Grew, counsellor of the American embassy in Berlin. The note, which officials say differs in only the most minor phraseology—and this due to translation—from the original, was decoded and copies supplied to President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing.

The President directed that the note be sent to the several nations to whom it was addressed immediately. Chief Clerk Ben Davis of the state department immediately recoded the instrument and it was placed on the cables.

Announcement was made at the state department that the note will go forward at once. The department added that it "has received no request other than to transmit the communication."

Receipt of the note has not ended the problem confronting President Wilson. He has not decided whether he will follow it with another suggestion from this government, as the leading neutral nation, asking that it be given the most careful consideration and again proffering the good offices of this government in any plan of mediation or otherwise that may be devised to end the war.

The President, White House officials said today, still is very much in doubt as to what is the best course to be pursued.

For the present any communications which may pass back and forth between the belligerents must go thru the state department. The reply of the entente, when drafted, will be sent here for transmission to Berlin, Vienna, Constantinople and Sofia.

Because of its position as "next friend" of most of the belligerents in the enemy countries, the United States must act with extreme caution. The situation is most delicate and

Charge Repairs To Gas Company

A burst water pipe, resulting from cold weather and lack of gas, caused considerable damage at the J. W. Maxwell home on Elm street Thursday at one o'clock. The pipe broke in one of the upstairs rooms and soon flooded both floors of the dwelling and the plastering of the dining room came off. An attempt was made to turn the water off in the cellar of the house, but it was necessary to call a plumber. When the plumber arrived, water was several inches deep on the floor.

AUSTRIA SAYS FOE NEVER CAN WIN THIS WAR

Calls Blockade A Failure and No Chance of Starving Teutons

LONDON, DEC. 14.—An official Austrian statement, referring to the peace offer, says:

"When in the summer of 1914 the patience of Austria-Hungary was exhausted by a series of systematically continued and ever increasing provocations and menaces and the monarchy, after almost fifty years of unbroken peace, found itself compelled to draw the sword, this weighty decision was animated neither by aggressive purposes nor by designs of conquest, but solely by the bitter necessity of self-defense, to defend its existence and safeguard itself for the future against similar treacherous plots of hostile neighbors.

"That was the task and aim of the monarchy in the present war. In combination with its allies, well tried in loyal comradeship in arms, the Austro-Hungarian army and fleet, fighting, bleeding, but also assailing and conquering, gained such successes that they frustrated the intentions of the enemy.

"The quadruple alliance not only has won an immense series of victories, but also holds in its power extensive hostile territories. Unbroken is its strength as our latest treacherous enemy has just experienced.

Insists Blockade Is Failure.

"Can our enemies hope to conquer or shatter this alliance of powers? They will never succeed in breaking it by blockade and starvation measures. Their war aims, to the attainment of

Blaze Caused By Log Grate

An old fashioned log grate caused a blaze at the home of William Harbold, on the West Lafayette road, Thursday afternoon. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Harbold. The mantle and wall paper were burned.

The house is owned by J. C. Stockum. Mr. and Mrs. Harbold had been at the Stockum farm assisting with the butchering and upon her return home made a timely discovery of the fire which was quickly extinguished.

A loss of approximately $75 is covered by insurance in the Glenn E. Smith insurance agency.

CREW SUFFOCATING IN CHLORINE GAS?

Coast Guard Effort At Rescue Fails; Ship May Be Battered Into Wreck

EUREKA, CAL., DEC. 14.—Fears for the safety of Lieut. H. R. Bogusch and E. F. Zemke and the crew of the United States submarine H-3, were expressed this afternoon following the running aground of the little diver just outside of Humboldt bay today.

The Eureka coast guard crew this afternoon got close enough to the submarine to shoot a line over her. However, the line was still lying across the vessel's stern late this afternoon and nobody on board had appeared to pick it up or make it fast. This caused the belief that the crew are unable to get out.

Is Breaking Up

The tide is coming in and hope was expressed that the vessel will be washed ashore and left when the tide recedes.

This afternoon after the craft had been buffeted and rolled by the sea for several hours, the belief was expressed by persons watching the ship from shore that her superstructure was being broken up.

At that hour the H-3, apparently caught fast in the breakers where she ran during a dense fog, was apparently being tossed about helplessly in the surf.

Because of the heavy roll and toss it is feared that those aboard the ship have been so badly battered that they are not able to help themselves.

GAS COMPANY AND COUNCIL PROPOSE COMPROMISE RATES

MANY PAPERS FORCED INTO BANKRUPTCY

Federal Probe Into News Print Situation Reveals Gloomy Outlook

WASHINGTON, DEC. 14. Paper manufacturers, at the conclusion of the federal trade commission's hearing, yesterday, proposed to meet a committee of the National Newspaper Publishers' Association, to work out for the commission's approval, a plan for an equitable distribution of the stocks of print paper.

Chairman Hurley, of the commission, asked the publishers, manufacturers and jobbers to hold separate meetings Friday to frame their plans and appoint committees to meet with the commission aSturday.

The manufacturers announced today that they would meet in New York Friday to name a committee for the conference here Saturday.

Frank P. Glass, of Birmingham, Ala., chairman of the executive committee on paper of the Publishers' Association announced that the paper committee and directors of the Publishers Association will meet at the New Willard hotel Friday morning at 10 o'clock "to consider what action, if any, shall be taken." He said all publishers would be welcome.

Small Publishers Invited.

Another urgent invitation for newspaper publishers, particularly those in small communities, to send representatives to the publishers' meeting was issued at a conference of representatives of state press associations, called by George E. Hosmer, of Detroit, chairman of the National Editorial Association's legislative committee. A

Reign Of Terror In Chihuahua City

EL PASO, TEXAS, DEC. 14.—Military authoritis today forwarded to Washington the substance of a letter from an American woman in Chihuahua City, who declared that a reign of terror has broken out there. Six hundred civilians have been thrown into jail by General Murguia, the writer asserted, and so many women maltreated that women no longer dare appear on the streets.

Villa has begun his real drive on the important city of Torreon.

Advices received by military authorities and federal agents here today stated that the bandit leader had left the vicinity of San Andres Polomas with his main forces, leaving enough men near Chihuahua City to harass the Carranzistas. His advance guard reached Santa Rosalia, 100 miles southwest of Chihuahua City, and reoccupied the town without a struggle.

GRANGE MEETING POSTPONED.

On account of the fox hunt at Plainfield Saturday, the all day meeting of the Plainfield grange has been postponed until the first Saturday in January.

Gas Company's Compromise Rate Ultimately Amounts To Advance Over Rates First Asked By The Company—Is Not Considered—Council's Proposal Generally Thot Fair.

Following a joint conference of council members, The Chamber of Commerce committee Manager E. B. Smith, of the Coshocton Gas company, and Mr. Sears, of the Doherty interests, late Thursday afternoon council proposed the following compromise rates:

27 1-2 cents per thousand feet until September 5, 1917.

30 cents per thousand feet thereafter until expiration of franchise, September 5, 1922.

A minimum monthly charge of 50 cents.

The city to withdraw its injunction suits and pay its own costs.

The Coshocton Gas Company to withdraw its case from the Utilities Commission and pay its own costs.

Manager E. B. Smith stated he did not know whether the terms could be accepted but would probably know "sometime Friday afternoon."

Councilmen and members of the Chamber of Commerce are more than hopeful the proposition will be accepted, in fact, they feel certain it will be. A canvass of citizens indicated ageneral approval of council's compromise.

Shortly after the conference closed George Gray stated to Councilman E. W. Heinke, that should the gas company refuse the council compromise, he and five other prominent men were willing to donate $500 each toward the purchase of coal stoves for the poor. Matters have now reached such a stage, say councilmen, that before citizens will pay the original increased rate, they will buy coal stoves and discontinue the use of gas. The statements of Manager Smith, to the effect that he cannot guarantee sufficient gas under his own compromise rate, caused many to declare that if it was necessary to install coal stoves and furnaces, it might as well be done now.

The Gas Company Compromise.

The majority of the council members feel that they have made a fair proposition and declare they will not grant a further increase. They refused to consider a proposition by the gas company looking to a compromise on the following basis:

27 1-2 cents per thousand for one year beginning December 20.

32 1-2 cents per thousand for two years beginning December 20, 1917.

35 cents per thousand for three

Riot Rampant In Guanajuato

EL PASO, TEX., DEC. 14.—Famine, disease, immorality and lawlessness are supreme in the Mexican city of Guanajuato, once known as a center of wealth and famed for its beautiful women. This was the report made by an American mining man, just returned from Guanajuato.

His story, supported by sworn affidavits, was forwarded to Washington by the United States military authorities today. The American, who would not allow his name to be made public because of his business in Guanajuato, alleged:

Scores of people, swarming about the city soup kitchens were shot down by soldiers for no other purpose than to get rid of them.

Adobe huts, housing poverty stricken families have been sealed up at night by soldiers, leaving the helpless occupants to die by suffocation.

Soldiers raided a convent, forced sisters of charity to don peons' clothing and go to work.

Many younger nuns committed suicide to escape mistreatment.

Soldiers raided and looted the church of Our Lady of Guadalupe, one of the most beautiful in the city. They killed the priests, converted the interior of the building into, first, a bull ring and, later, a barracks.

Beggars are so numerous that they are shot down if they annoy the soldiers.

Five merchants who objected to Carranza's decree regarding the acceptance of bad money were executed.

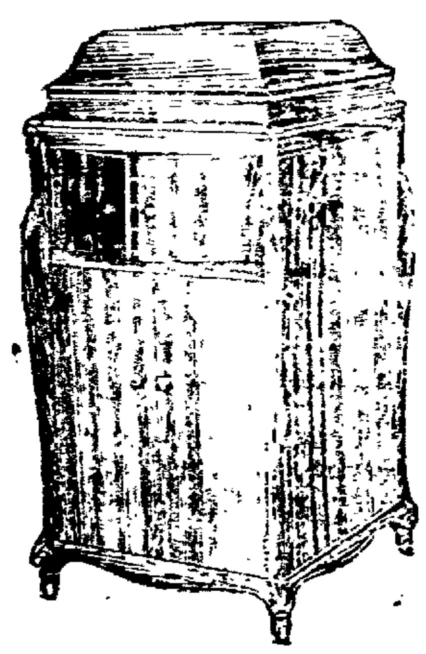

Twenty five carloads of grain, sent by the Red Cross to relieve the starving populace, were confiscated by soldiers. The governor took what the soldiers did not consume and sold it at $3.50 a bushel.

From a city of 40,000 Guanajuato has been reduced in population to 15,000, the American added. The streets are filled with dead, victims of starvation or epidemics and little effort is made to dispose of the bodies, he asserted.

Similar conditions prevail in Zacatecas, he said, but to a lesser degree.

Victrola supremacy and what makes it

VICTROLA XVI, $200
Mahogany or oak

You are likely not interested in the interior mechanism of the Victrola.

What does interest you is what that mechanism—the designing, the construction, give you—the unequaled Victrola tone.

Tone and the control of the volume of tone are the things you want in a talking-machine—two dominant Victrola characteristics.

And because their development represents years of patient experiment and the expenditure of millions of dollars, it may be well for you to know about some of the exclusive features that make the Victrola supreme among musical instruments.

Come in and let us show you the advantages of these exclusive patented Victrola features:

Tapering tone arm—with its exact taper and perfectly smooth bore, which is scientifically calculated and constructed to conform to the expanding sound waves created by the sound box.

"Goose neck" sound-box tube—the flexible metal connection between the sound-box and tapering tone arm, which enables the Victor Needle to follow the record grooves with unerring accuracy.

Concealed sounding-boards and amplifying compartment of wood—provide the very limit of area of vibrating surface and sound amplifying compartment, so absolutely essential to an exact and pure tone reproduction.

Modifying doors—may be opened wide thereby giving the tone in its fullest volume; or doors may be set at any degree graduating the volume of tone to exactly suit every requirement. Closed tight the volume is reduced to the minimum and when not in use the interior is fully protected.

Victor system of changeable needles—a perfect reproduction is possible only with a perfect point—therefore a new needle for each record is the only positive assurance of a perfect point. You also have your choice of full tone, half tone or further modification with the fibre needle.

We're glad to make you fully acquainted with the Victrola and its delightful music which is at all times in exact accord with the artist's interpretation. Stop in any time.

There are Victrolas in great variety of style from $15 to $300. Easy terms, if desired.

Decide Slingsbys Substituted Heir

LONDON, DEC. 14.—The house of lords refused the appeal in the Slingsby legitimacy case [illegible]

[illegible] which has been before the courts of England and the United States for several years. An inheritance was left in England to the first male heir of three brothers of the name of Slingsby. The estate is [illegible] valued at about $50,000.

The case grew out of the attempt of one brother to establish himself as the father of an heir and the denial by the others. As the alleged heir was born outside the state it was necessary to establish the fact of his legitimate birth.

In December, 1915, a petition was presented at the [illegible] court for a decree that Charles Eugene Slingsby was the lawful son of Charles R. Slingsby and Dorothy Slingsby. It was [illegible] the child had been born in San Francisco in 1910. Thomas and Alan Slingsby, brothers of Charles [illegible] Charles Slingsby, alleged no heir had been born, that the infant's mother was Lillian Anderson and its father Fred Colman, that the child had been procured for the petitioners and passed off by them as their lawful offspring, the birth [illegible] being alleged.

A California court ruled that the child was the legitimate heir [illegible] English court upheld that decision. The case was taken to the court of appeals where it looked the [illegible] [illegible]

Misunderstanding With U. S.

Replying in the House of Commons today to a question put by Arthur Lynch, Nationalist member for West Clare, suggesting that many parties in the policy of the British government with regard to the United States had been of an irritating kind without any compensation corresponding to the danger of producing misunderstandings, Lord Robert Cecil, minister of blockade said:

"It unfortunately is inevitable that our measures should cause inconvenience to the citizens of neutral countries. Much as we regret it, I can only say that, consistently with the paramount duties of using our belligerent rights, we have done and are doing all we can to make their exercise as little irksome to neutrals as possible."

NO CHANCE FOR PEACE

PETROGRAD, Via LONDON, DEC. 14.—From a "highly authoritative source," the Novoe Vremya says it has obtained the following expression in regard to the peace proposal of the central powers:

"The appeal of our enemies is a fresh attempt to cast upon France, Russia and Great Britain the responsibility for the war, and a fresh trap for the public opinion of the world. The entente powers would be taking upon their shoulders a terrible responsibility before their own people if they stopped the war and concluded a premature peace which would nullify their countless sacrifices.

"The firm resolve of France, Russia and Great Britain to carry on the war to a final triumph cannot be weakened by any illusory offers from their enemies."

"LOOK OUT, TAKE CARE"

PARIS, DEC. 14.—Premier Briand accompanied his denunciation of the German peace offer as a trap with an announcement that he would ask for the increased power with which to carry on the war, according to reports of his speech before the chamber of deputies today. At the same time the premier promised that the government would not undertake any scheme of national mobilization [illegible] the [illegible] German [illegible] plan.

"Evidently," said the premier, "[illegible] documents are [illegible] it is necessary to recall what happened in 1870. After eight months it is not a German but a French victory which in 1871 has been inscribed on French flags."

The premier referred to the French successes at Verdun and the gains made on the Somme, and derided Germany for its claim of victory while it is taking such measures as what he termed, the militarizing of the civil population. The chamber applauded enthusiastically when he affirmed that the war government of France would not follow the policy of Germany.

He asked, however, for power to regulate all questions concerning the national defense, including the possibility of requisition [illegible] and that the latter step was considered necessary it would not be carried out inconsiderately. The chamber applauded when he announced that the government would ask for the suppression of the liquor traffic throughout France.

BIG DRIVE IN SPRING

Premier Briand expressed the certainty that some of the measures taken by Germany have behind them the object of intensifying the war next spring when, he said, she will have stronger armies to face. He warned France to be prepared for these efforts and to have confidence in the final outcome. Then he turned to a discussion of the German peace proposal.

"It is after having proclaimed its victory," he said, "while at the same time making new efforts to gain it, that Germany sends us certain words which I am unable to explain. You have read the address delivered by von Bethmann-Hollweg, the chancellor of the German empire. I have not the text and therefore I cannot give an official opinion, but it is probable that at the present moment [illegible] others those who are asked to intervene will accept a task which might well [illegible] confidence here. I want made known officially the [illegible] opinion of the allies, but I must now warn my country against a possible poisoning of opinion.

"LOOK OUT TAKE CARE"

"When a country armed to the teeth [illegible] civil population, [illegible] the risk of [illegible] its commerce and devastating the homes of [illegible] so proud, when its [illegible] are working [illegible] crime to increase [illegible] and when it takes, in disregard of the law of nations, the people of an invaded country and obliges them to work for it, at that moment I do not cry out to my country, 'Look out! Take care!' I would be entirely culpable. What comes from yonder is a proposition to negotiate peace made at a time when Belgium is invaded, Serbia is invaded, ten departments of France are invaded."

Deputy Andre Lefevre here interrupted, saying, "and crimes unpunished!" Premier Briand resumed:

"It is a redoubtable moment and I cannot call your attention too much to the facts. What do we see in this address? It is the same cry to deceive neutrals or the clairvoyance of the German people—'It was not we who desired this horrible war. It was imposed on us.' I want to answer for the hundredth time, 'No, you were the aggressors and whatever you say, the facts are there to prove it.' The blood is on your heads and not on ours.'

PLOT TO SEPARATE ALLIES

"Now, coming to the bottom of things, I have the right to denounce this maneuver, this gross trap. We want, it is said by our enemies, to give our people all the means to prosper that they can desire. Others are offered as alms, a consent not to annihilate them. After the Marne, after Verdun, France, France resisting firmly is offered this; such a document must be thoroly mediated upon to see toward what objects it tends."

There was loud applause at these words and Deputy Thierry-Cazes shouted: "The country thanks as you [illegible]." Premier Briand then concluded:

"From this rostrum I must say that there is a maneuver to separate the allies, disturb the conscience and demoralize the people of the French republic. In circumstances such as these one will not do less than the convention."

ATTITUDE OF JAPAN

TOKIO, DEC. 14.—News dispatches from New York were the first information reaching here of Germany's peace proposals. The news was a complete surprise and caused a panic on the stock exchange. Shipping stock tumbled and were followed by other securities until the governors ordered the exchange closed until December 18.

At foreign office, the Bank of Japan and other influential circles have received no advices, but gave out interviews expressing a firm belief that the allies would not consider any proposition which would leave Germany in her ante war position or anything approximating thereto.

PA. GRANGE FAVORABLE TO PROHIBS

PHILADELPHIA, DEC. 14.—A "fight to a finish" policy against the rum business, outlined at yesterday's session of the Pennsylvania State Grange is the most comprehensive program ever put forward by a secular organization in this state.

Virtually every known method of opposition to the liquor business was approved by these representatives of 68,000 Pennsylvania farmers. Here are the measures approved:

A national prohibition amendment.

A county local option law in Pennsylvania next year.

Immediate enforcement of laws prohibiting the sale of adulterated liquors.

An anti treating law.

A law closing bars in social clubs.

Most of the recommendations were approved when the report of the legislative committee, headed by "Farmer" William T. Creasy, was adopted. In this report, which advocated a tax revision in the state, to throw less burden on real estate and equalize taxes by an increase of corporation rates, local option thru the next legislature, the anti treating law, the law against social clubs, and a national prohibition mendment were proposed and adopted.

Backache Just Like a Toothache!

Dear Mr. Editor—Sometime ago I had backache very bad; it would ache just like a toothache. I tried a new discovery of Doctor Pierce's, called "Anuric." This is for kidneys and backache. I soon felt relieved of all backache and had no more pain, and I hope others troubled in the same way will try this wonderful new remedy.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) MRS. LINCOLN STEARNS.

NOTE: It is now asserted with confidence that these painful effects due to uric acid in the system are entirely eradicated. A new remedy, called "Anuric," has been discovered by Dr. Pierce, and is the cause of a drainage outward of the uric acid with which it comes in contact within the body. It will ward off backache, headache, and the darting pains and aches of articular or muscular rheumatism of those diseases which are caused by too much uric acid, such as gout, asthma, sciatica, renal calculus. "Anuric" prolongs life because old people usually suffer from hardening and thickening of the walls of the arteries, due to the excess of uric acid in the blood and tissues.

Dr. Pierce, who is director and chief physician at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has been testing this wonderful medicine for the relief of over-worked and weakened kidneys. The relief obtained by sufferers has been so satisfactory that he determined to place "Anuric" with the principal druggists in town where people could get this ready-to-use medicine. "Anuric" is not harmful or poisonous, but aids nature in throwing off those poisons within the body which cause so much suffering, pain and misery. Scientists assert this remedy is 37 times more potent than lithia.

For Diabetes and Bright's Disease this remedy is building up a reputation as good as Dr. Pierce's other well-known medicines which have been proven reliable during nearly fifty years, such as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the ills of women, Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the liver regulator, and Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for red blood.

Protect the Birds.

For every plant that is grown there is somewhere an insect to attack it; every farm, orchard and garden is now infected with noxious weeds; for every weed there is or once was a bird that would eat the seed. Look at conditions and see what a change has taken place in the last 25 years. What will it be at the end of the next 25 years? See what a burden we are transferring to posterity—a crime that the youngest child now on earth will not live long enough to see corrected.—Exchange.

GERMANY'S PEACE OFFER

Having [illegible] peace proposals, the German government, with the acquiescence of its allies, has now officially declared its [illegible] and desire to enter on peace negotiations. The representatives of the United States, Spain, and Switzerland, the nations protecting German interests in hostile foreign countries, have been asked to [illegible] Germany's enemies of her wish to negotiate. The terms Germany is ready to agree to are not definitely outlined, but the statement is made that it is the belief of the German government that they will be such as to contribute to the establishment of a lasting peace.

Official Germany is of the opinion, or pretends to be, that her recent military successes negative the idea that peace is sought because of weakness. It is [illegible] that Germany has won the war. [illegible] Napoleon in 1812 when in possession of Moscow [illegible] letter to Alexander of Russia. Napoleon said that [illegible] before or after the last battle would have stopped his march. He suggested an armistice leading up to peace negotiations. But Alexander, despite the [illegible] of the war [illegible] and Napoleon's declarations that he was moved by magnanimous motives, construed the overture as indicating weakness. He made no reply, and the war went on, with results with which the world is familiar. In the present instance it is highly improbable that the Allied governments and people will read the German offer as its authors assert that it ought to be read.

The German [illegible] of a lasting peace are not likely to be the same as those of her adversaries. She declares that she was attacked [illegible] her opponents [illegible] are convinced that she was not attacked. [illegible] it is not likely that her ideas of the constituents of a lasting peace will meet general acceptance.

Is Germany willing to repair the wrong she has done—to pay an indemnity sufficient to restore Belgium to her old status? Is she willing to lessen the size of a military establishment which has terrorized the world? Is she willing to abandon her policy of [illegible] and thus necessarily [illegible]? Has she abandoned her desire to [illegible] the Balkans and to erect an empire stretching from the North Sea to the Persian Gulf? Is she to continue [illegible]? Is she ready to [illegible] Prussianism [illegible] to cease to be the servant of [illegible] Hohenzollern [illegible] has steadily pursued for two hundred years?

These things are [illegible] her opponents and neutral [illegible] permanent peace [illegible]. The guess may be hazarded that Germany [illegible] on these terms, and in view of [illegible] the Allied powers have [illegible] peace [illegible] propositions.

[illegible] But [illegible] recent charges [illegible] resolution to press [illegible] New York Globe

ODD WAYS OF USING GOLD.

They Didn't Impress the Man Who Has None to Squander.

"I reckon I would be liable to be a many different kinds of fool as almost anybody else if I should suddenly get possession of a large amount of money," said the man in strenuous circumstances. "I have noticed the people who are so fortunate as to do that often show remarkable versatility in their choice of ridiculous performances. The very ability to realize desires that have long been held in abeyance by lack of means seems sometimes to develop absurdities in a man's nature which no one else would suspect if he had remained poor.

"Sometimes a man will do things that are not really absurd, but only seem whimsical. I knew one man who when he received an unexpected legacy, bought himself twenty-five pairs of shoes with the first money he spent. He said the one greatest inconvenience of poverty to him had always been the wearing of old shoes.

"Another man I once knew certainly did provoke mirth among his acquaintances when he had all the stonework in his house gilded before he spent any of his new money for anything else. I don't know that he was any more foolish than one of the many millionaires I read about who had the handrail of the grand stairways of his country house covered with a casing of solid gold. One seems about as grotesque as the other to me.

"And there is another thing I wouldn't do. It came to my mind recently when my wife showed me a piano in a store window. It was entirely covered with gold or what looked like gold. I agreed with her that it was pretty, but I said that I would not care to have it in our house.

"Gold is certainly a good thing to have, and I'd like to have a lot of it, but I don't think I'd like to have it too much in evidence all the time."—New York Sun.

HER GIFT OF MIMICRY.

Cissie Loftus Could Imitate Irving and Bernhardt Equally Well.

Walter Prichard Eaton in the American Magazine says in an article about famous mimics:

"In the days when Cissie Loftus was delighting vaudeville audiences with her imitations she used to give an imitation of Lillian Russell. Miss Russell countered by giving an imitation of Miss Loftus' imitation of her. But to an artist like Miss Loftus that presented no difficulties. She promptly came back with an imitation of Miss Russell's imitation of her imitation of Miss Russell. The tale Lillian Lorraine related from an upper box."

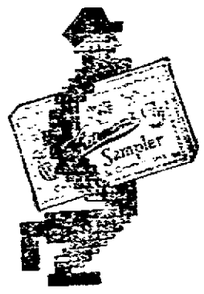

"Cissie Loftus could imitate anybody. The present writer once heard her in the course of a social conversation imitate most charmingly Sir Henry Irving in a blank verse death scene. Then an imaginary curtain descended and you heard Sir Henry, in a totally different voice no less unmistakably his, inspiring in very Saxon prose where the dense were the red lights.

"Standing on the stage of a theater without change of costume, with the glitter of a smile on her rather witty face, she would range from Sarah Bernhardt to Ethel Barrymore so that you almost gasped at the art and cleverness of it, and if you shut your eyes you could hardly believe that the actual persons were not present.

"Hers of course was an extraordinary gift of mimicry, and it brought her in $1,000 a week, much more probably than she could command as an actress."

FACTS ABOUT PNEUMONIA

Twenty-five of the deaths in Cincinnati last week were due to this disease. Over twice as many as occurred during the corresponding week of 1915. Similar reports are coming in from all over the state.

Numerous physicians have referred to the unusual prevalence of the disease and the severe type that prevails.

The presence of more than one case in the same family is not due to chance but to the fact that pneumonia is a communicable disease and that contact is an important factor in its spread.

The sputum raised contains the specific cause and should be destroyed for the same reason that tuberculosis sputum is destroyed.

Droplets given off during coughing, talking or sneezing may carry it to others present in the room and on being taken into their bodies, produce the disease in them.

Kissing a pneumonia patient is as hazardous almost as to kiss a diphtheria or scarlet fever patient.

Table utensils used in feeding a pneumonia patient are infected and should be sterlized by boiling.

Bits of food that have been in the sick room should be destroyed by fire.

As fresh, pure air is the greatest single factor in the prevention of pneumonia so is it the greatest single factor in the cure of those attacked.

Fresh cold air and lots of it, is a radical departure from the antiquated method of rooms hermetically sealed and heated to suffocation but the returns are all in favor of the fresh, cold air method.

Visitors have no business calling on a pneumonia patient. They drain the patient's strength, consume the oxygen he needs and incidentally, run the risk of infection. Be on the safe side. Eat right, sleep right, live right, and the chances of contracting pneumonia are almost entirely eliminated.

Makers of Bar Fixtures Going To Other Lines

CINCINNATI, DEC. 14.—"The bar fixture trade of our company has fallen off considerably and we have been forced to substitute other articles of manufacture," said L. H. Brunswick, first vice president of the Brunswick Balke-Collender Company, today, following the announcement that the company is changing its lines of trade. A report from Chicago says that the prohibition movement has made the bax-fixture business unprofitable.

All want to try new drug that dries up corns so they lift out.

Good news spread rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any pharmacy; but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet on every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

One-Third Of Strikers Go Back To Work

NEW YORK, DEC. 14.—Representatives of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, scores of whose members in this city were said to be affected by the strike which began today, announced tonight that 10,500 had returned to work, after settlements had been made with manufacturers at the union's terms, which include an eight-hour day and wage increases of not less than $1 a week.

Sidney Hillman, president of the amalgamated association, said that in some instances manufacturers had granted increases in wage of $2 a week.

"This is the middle of the Easter season, as far as the manufacturer of clothing is concerned," declared Mr. Hillman. "New York city turns out $225,000,000 worth of clothing annually, and the calling of a strike at this time of the year means a tremendous loss to the manufacturers. Today alone a conservative estimate shows that there are 100,000 coats that have not been out. It is commercial suicide for the manufacturers not to deal with our organization."

Mr. Hillman announced that 5000 pickets would be assigned to shops thruout the city to prevent the housing of strike-breakers overnight.

The walkout was expected to extend to Newark, N. J., and perhaps to Philadelphia, which would affect thousands of other workers.

The strike call, addressed to cutters, coat workers, dressmakers and pants makers employed in the men's and children's clothing branches, contains the following sentences:

"Eight hours for work, eight hours for sleep, eight hours to live, is what all workers are striving for.

"We want some share of this great prosperity to meet the high cost of living.

"Be orderly and permit no disorder."

Besides an eight-hour day, a reduction from fifty to forty-eight hours a week, the workers demand a weekly wage increase of $2. Ninety per cent of the employes to whom the strike call was addressed are declared to be members of the amalgamated body, the others working in non-union shops.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanliness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent calomel, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

MANY PAPERS

committee of publishers, consisting of Ernest G. Smith, of Wilkes Barre, Pa.; J. H. Zerbey, of Pottsville, Pa.; H. J. Ballon, of Paris, Mo., and Mr Hosmer, was named to represent the conference at the hearing.

The manufacturers' proposal came as an unexpected development of the hearing. Newspaper owners had told of wide differences in paper prices in various parts of the country, and of the inability of many small publishers to obtain paper at any price.

Profits Have Increased.

At the outset investigators for the commission presented for the first time fact uncovered in their inquiry into news print prices. This information has to do with profits in the mills and in the jobbing houses, and with the question of supply and demand. Profits have increased, it was shown and the output has grown, although growing consumption has taken up much of the increased manufacture.

Attorneys for the manufacturers objected to presentation of the figures without previous notice, and declared they had no means of proving they were wrong without extended investigation for themselves. They declared it was unfair to force them to answer the charges without preparation, and asked a brief adjournment to permit a conference.

The commission instead proceeded with the hearing, permitting voluntary testimony by publishers. Representatives of the manufacturers then suggested the plan agreed on.

Most of the newspapers of the country, including probably 10,000 small dailies and weeklies, were represented directly or thru national and state publishing associations. It was brot out that the increased price of newsprint paper to them amounted to about $80 a ton and that to papers using fifty tons a year it meant an increased cost of $4,000, which in many cases would wipe out the profit. Witnesses told the commission that many papers had been forced out of business by increased paper prices and that hundreds had no chance for survival unless there is an immediate reduction.

H. B. Varner, chairman of the news print paper committee of the North Carolina Press Association, a witness before the commission, filed with the department of justice during the day a request that paper manufacturers be prosecuted for alleged combination. His charge was that North Carolina publishers, who formed a committee to buy paper, were told by the big paper making concerns that the mills could not supply them because the manufacturers had sold all their 1917 output to their old customers.

AUSTRIA SAYS

which they have come no nearer in the third year of the war, will in the future be proved to have been completely unattainable. Useless and unavailing, therefore, is the prosecution of the fighting on the part of the enemy.

"The powers of the quadruple alliance, on the other hand, have effectively pursued their aims, namely, defence against attacks on their existence and integrity, which were planned in concert long since, and the achievement of real guaranties and they will never allow themselves to be deprived of the basis of their existence, which they have secured by advantages won.

"The continuation of the murderous war, in which the enemy can destroy much, but can not, as the quadruple alliance is firmly confident, alter fate, is ever more seen to be an aimless destruction of human lives and property, an act of inhumanity justified by no necessity and a crime against civilization.

Hope Enemy Feels the Same.

"This conviction and the hope that similar views may also be begun to be entertained in the enemy camp has caused the idea to ripen in the Vienna cabinet—in full agreement with the government of candid and loyal endeavor to come to a discussion with their enemies for the purpose of paving a way for peace.

"The governments of Austria-Hungary, Germany, Turkey and Bulgaria have addressed today identical notes to the diplomatic representatives in the capitals concerned who are intrusted with the protection of enemy nationals, expressing an inclination to enter into peace negotiations and requesting them to transmit this overture to enemy states.

"This step was simultaneously brot to the knowledge of the representatives of the holy see in a special note and the active interest of the pope for this offer of peace was solicited.

Proclaims Love for Peace.

"Likewise, the accredited representatives of the remaining neutral states in the four capitals were acquainted with this proceeding for the purpose of informing their governments.

"Austria and her allies by this step have given new and decisive proof of their love of peace. It now is for their views before the world. Whatever the result of its proposal may be, no responsibility can fall on the quadruple alliance, even before the judgment seat of its own peoples, if it is eventually obliged to continue the war."

Getting at A Secret

By JOHN TURNLEE

Betty and I were at the piano. I was handing her sheets of music, which she would play or try to play. Presently I tired of this and said to her:

"I heard something about you the other day."

"What did you hear?"

"I'm not going to tell you."

If I had really heard anything about her I might have teased her for awhile, then told her; but, since I had heard nothing, I had drawn down discomfort on my head.

Every now and again I would admit something in which there was not a grain of truth, and every time I did so I sank deeper into the mire.

"Did you hear it from a man or a woman?"

"From neither." This was about the only truth there was in all my answers.

"Did you see it written?"

"No."

"Printed?"

"Certainly not."

This ended this series of questions, and after some thought Bet went off on another tack, in which, of course, it was as easy for me to run her on the rocks as before. At last I said to her:

"Really, Bet, there's nothing in what I heard, or, rather, I heard nothing at all. I said what I did only to tease you."

"You didn't do any such thing. You heard something that I am sure I should know. There is an enemy against whom I should be on my guard. It is your duty to tell me who she is."

"She?"

"Yes. I'm not afraid of a man. Men have no interest in injuring women, and if they had they wouldn't know how. They'd blunder, and it would all react on themselves."

"Didn't I tell you that what I heard was complimentary?"

"And don't I know how to injure a rival by pretending to praise her?"

"How would you do that?" I asked, hoping to divert her attention from the subject in question.

"You may as well tell me who this she devil is and what she said about me."

"There is no she devil, and she has not spoken a word against you."

"Has she red hair?"

I gave a shrug, but no reply.

"This is ridiculous!" said Bet. "Just as if I didn't know who had been saying disagreeable things about me!"

What a fool I had been! And by my folly I had doubtless caused her enmity toward some innocent woman to burst into a flame. At any rate this is the way I looked upon the matter. I must try a bluff. I scowled fiercely and, rising, went into the hall, opened the door of the coat closet, stepped inside and was taking down my hat when I heard the door shut behind me and the key turned.

Here was a pretty how-d'ye-do. Bet had me locked in the dark and would doubtless keep me there until I told her what had no existence even in imagination, much less in fact. I waited, expecting to hear from her. I waited in vain. I rapped on the door.

"What is it?"

"Let me out." I assumed an angry tone.

"Tell me what you heard about me."

"I would if I could, but since I heard nothing I can't."

"Then you admit that you are untruthful?"

"Yes, anything you like."

"And you heard nothing said about me?"

"Not a thing."

"Perhaps you have forgotten it?"

"Perhaps I have."

"Very well; stay where you are till you remember it."

I did not propose to remain in a dark closet where there was no room to stand except bolt upright. I would break down the door in preference. But this would make a disturbance in the house. Bet wouldn't care, but I would. I must find some other expedient.

There is a confession I have to make here. I was quite gone on this tantalizing creature and had been deterred from proposing to her because I had two years in college yet before me and three more in the study of a profession.

"Bet," I called.

"What is it?"

"I give in; I crawl; I cave."

"Are you going to tell?"

"Yes, I am. You have forced it from me."

"Well, tell it."

"Not while in here. Let me out and I'll make a clean breast of it."

It was a long while before I could convince her that I would keep my word. When I did I went with her into the library, where we had been before, and, drawing a small sofa to an open fire, we seated ourselves side by side.

"I told you I had not heard this thing from a man or a woman. It was told me by a little bird."

"What did the little bird say?"

"The little bird said, 'You are in love with Bet.'"

There was a long pause, after which Bet asked in a low, soft voice, "And what did you say?"

"I said, 'Little bird, you're right.'"

We celebrated our tin wedding recently. I called my wife's attention to the manner of my proposal.

"Humph!" she said. "I knew the secret all the while. I was determined to make you say it."

Mr and Mrs. E. E. Standen and Miss Caroline Standen, of the Standen hotel, went to Columbus Wednesday to attend the convention of hotel proprietors of Ohio.

Prof. A. A. Barton gave an illustrated talk on "Corn" at New Moscow Wednesday evening. The lecture attracted much attention and the meeting was well attended.

Misses Mary and Cora Hocker, of 441 Main street, left Wednesday afternoon for Sugar Creek, where they will spend three weeks with their parents.

6TH STREET ATTRACTION DELIGHTFUL

Much rag time, which is properly termed syncopation, many catchy vocal numbers, remarkable dancing by both principals and chorus, combined with a musical comedy plot—which only has to appear in spots to keep the show moving—went to make up one of the best attractions which has been booked at the Sixth Street theatre for many a day. The name of the play is "Watch Your Step," and a fair sized audience enjoyed it thru the three acts and several scenes, Thursday evening.

"Watch Your Step" was written by Irving Berlin, who is known as the king of syncopated music. The company presenting the piece was excellent, thruout. Miss Hannah Leach, as the dancing teacher, and Ohn Howland, as the inventor of the dance steps, very acceptably filling the parts originated by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle.

The cleverest comedy of the piece was furnished by Goff Phillips, in black face, as the carriage caller at the opera, his methods being the confidential kind employed by Al Jolson and Frank Tinney. Harry Bestry, as Algy Cuffs, a matinee idol, looked the part, and put his songs and dances "over" every time he appeared.

EYE IS INJURED.

John Lyons, of Elm street, sustained a painful injury of the right eye Thursday morning when he was struck by a flying chip from a horseshoe which he was pounding. Dr. Lister Pomerene gave medical attention. The sight of the eye was not injured.

SLIDING TO DEATH.

A Perilous Mountain Incident and a Lucky Escape.

An American who lives in China made the ascent of the sacred mountain, Sinsantaishan, a year or two since, and made, or at least began to make, the descent in a much more unpremeditated manner.

He had reached an altitude of over 9000 feet and, having lost the trail, branched off and climbed a lower peak to see whether he could discover the right track. He managed to crawl to the top, and since the view was very fine he opened his paint box to make a sketch.

As he was sorting his brushes the stone on which he was sitting gave way, and he started sliding down the almost perpendicular slope. He tried to clutch the ground with his hands. He seized every projecting stone in the hope of stopping his precipitous descent, but at the speed at which he was going that was no easy matter.

Death stared him in the face, for another 100 yards would bring him to the edge of a precipice several hundred feet high, over which he must inevitably go. His hair stood on end as he approached the spot, and he can well remember the sound of his heavy paint box clanging from rock to rock as it accompanied him in his descent.

A violent shock, which nearly tore his body in two made him think he had gone over; but, no—he had suddenly stopped.

He opened his eyes, but he did not dare move, for his position, although much improved, was far from safe. His coat and strong leather strap that was slung under his arm had caught on a projecting stone, but a single false movement on his part would start him sliding down the slope again.

Slowly, carefully, as he lay on the almost perpendicular slope, he tried to get a footing. When he had succeeded in doing that the great difficulty was to turn round. After several anxious moments, each of which seemed ages long, he succeeded, and there he was, half kneeling, half lying, with his body on the ground, clutching the rock that saved him.

Then, when his agitation passed away, he managed to crawl up, cat fashion, to a position of safety.

MUSIC IN THE HOME.

Its Refining and Joyous Influence Should Be Welcomed.

So much is done for the children nowadays. So many different sorts of knowledge are crammed into them at school. They devote themselves to so many things unconnected either with childhood or home life. Meanwhile one opportunity—rich in possibilities for happiness—is too often neglected. Mr Josef Stransky gives wise counsel in this matter:

"The way to love music, to increase its production, is to know it when you are young—young individually and young as a nation. It is much more difficult to prepare people to enjoy music after they are grown up and their minds have become crowded with various interests in life. The American nation should not let its youth slip by without filling the souls of the children with music.

"As yet the young people here do not have their minds directed definitely enough in musical channels. I do not see groups of children standing about a piano in the twilight and singing to a mother's accompaniment. I do not see the boys of a neighborhood forming a small orchestra and playing really fine music, as they do in France and Germany."

Mr. Stransky overstates his case somewhat. We know of a New England farmer's family of six children, each playing a different instrument, who, with father and mother, make a real little orchestra. And there are a good many such groups of the sort Mr. Stransky says he has not seen—youngsters about their mother at the piano. But there should be still more—many more. There cannot be too many, for, as the wise conductor says, music is something more than mere entertainment. It is "a serious and permanent joy in life * * * to keep the emotions stirred, the imagination young."—Collier's Weekly.

WILL ATTEND CLINICS

Dr. J. D. Lower, of East Walnut street, will go to Cleveland this morning to visit his brother, Dr. William E. Lower, and Dr. Crile. Dr. Lower will also attend clinics at the Lakeside hospital while in Cleveland. Dr. Alfred Magness, son-in-law of Dr. Lower, will take care of Dr. Lower's practice here.

The crowd started last Saturday to buying at D. O. Thompson's "truthful sale" and they are still buying. We are more than pleased. "Truthful Sales" pay.
